

This architectural section drawing illustrates a building facade with a yellow exterior wall. The facade features a series of windows and a central entrance. From left to right, the elements are: a small square window, a larger rectangular window, a central entrance with a glass door, another larger rectangular window, and a final small square window. The roof is shown in grey, and the ground level is indicated by a dark grey base. The drawing uses hatching to represent different materials and structural elements.
